

David N Campbell
Cultural Facility Consultant

Capability Statement

Planning and delivering a sustainable future for cultural facilities

Introduction

David N Campbell is a highly skilled cultural facilities consultant with over thirty-five years of experience in the arts and cultural sector. His expertise ranges across technical asset management and protection, strategy development, technical systems design and maintenance, and operational planning. David specialises in performing arts venues and cultural facilities including museums and community arts centres.

David:

“Clear and considered direction in the planning stages of any facility is of significant importance. Careful attention to where, why and how cultural facilities are built or repurposed brings significant benefits for managers and audiences alike.”

David’s consultancy strives to ensure that any cultural facility is fit for purpose and provides the best access to its artworks and cultural activities.

Approach

David is motivated by a belief in mutual respect between clients and associates, and the benefits of:

- * Consultation
- * Co-operation
- * Collaboration

He works closely with architects, engineers, local authorities and planners to build robust frameworks that service the needs of the project from initiation to completion.

By listening, he is able to understand the unique needs of his client and to establish a clear direction for the project to achieve the desired deliverables.

David’s extensive experience in the Australian arts and cultural sector enables him to bring an appreciation for its diverse cultural environments and audiences. The approach taken also assists in realising sustainable outcomes for ongoing success.

Benefits

David N Campbell brings significant benefits to cultural facility projects including:
